

Reassessment Policy and Procedures (International Students)

Policy

This policy is to ensure that RGIT Students who have obtained an NYC (Not Yet Competent) in a unit may redo failed assessments without a need to see a reassessment officer, if they have attended at least 80 percent of scheduled classes for that unit and they complete the unit within the term in which it was offered.

If a student:

- attended less than 80 percent of scheduled classes for a unit and failed an assessment in that unit OR
- has NYC units carried over from earlier terms OR
- has failed a cooking practical class

In which case the student needs to pay a reassessment administration fee to cover costs of employing a reassessment officer and/or purchasing cooking material.

Definition

Failing a unit means being assessed as "Not Yet Competent" for a completed unit.

Study period is one term of 10 weeks duration.

Term is a period of 10 weeks. Two terms equal one semester.

Responsibility

Student Service Manager will be responsible for the implementation and monitoring of the policy and to ensure that staff and students are aware of its application and procedures.

Scope

This policy applies to international students enrolled in courses offered by the Institute.

Procedures

Reassessment Administration fees are as follows:

- $20 per assessment (except cooking practicals)
- Cooking practical assessment $100 (including cooking materials)

Reassessment fees are paid as follows:

- Trainer completes the Student Reassessment Invoice available on RGIT's intranet.
- Student takes invoice to Level 7 Accounts who calculate amount owing. Student pays the outstanding reassessment dues.
- Accounts signs and stamps the invoice to indicate that all fees have been paid. A copy

Page: 1 of 2

Reassessment Policy and Procedures (International Students)

is retained by Accounts and another given to student as evidence of payment.

- Student goes to Level 2 Student Administration to make an appointment with the next available Trainer and Assessor

Once a reassessment date has been scheduled, the student is contacted by Student Services. On the day of reassessment, the student shows the paid invoice to the reassessment officer as evidence that reassessment administration dues have been paid.

Reassessment conducted.

NB: Paid invoice is to be retained by student.

Fee Exemptions

Students will not have to pay reassessment administration fees, if students provide evidence that compassionate or compelling circumstances precluded them from completing an assessment within the period the unit was originally scheduled.

Compassionate or compelling circumstances may include:

- illness accompanied by a medical certificate
- death in the family accompanied by a death certificate
- Serious social or physical upheaval in the student's home country which required the student to suspend their studies
- Other reasons which the student is able to substantiate through written evidence

Students not Attending Classes

If a student has not attended any scheduled classes for a unit, the student must redo the unit in a subsequent term. The student will not be permitted to do reassessments by simply paying the reassessment administration fee.

Trainer and Assessor

Trainer and Assessor's role is to help students to complete failed units. Those students who have not attended at least 80 percent of scheduled classes for a unit will be asked a range of questions by the reassessment officer to determine whether the student has sufficient knowledge to complete the reassessment. If not, the student may be required to undertake supplementary work to better prepare the student for the assessment. Questions and tasks posed by the reassessment officer will be on a case by case basis.

Once the student has submitted the assessment, the student may be required to make a presentation or answer a range of questions related to their submission.